Ephesians 4.25

If there were one line that summarizes the message of virtually all of the truly prominent postmodern writers, it is that “there is no truth.” Truth, rather, was a social construction, and what anybody actually called “truth” was simply what some culture somewhere had managed to convince its members was truth; but there was no actually existing, given, real thing called “truth” that is simply sitting around awaiting discovery, any more than there is a single universally correct hem length that it is clothes designers’ job to discover. - Ken Wilber, Trump and a Post Truth World, p 20

In today’s world, many will only pay attention to what agrees with them. - Karl Moore, “How Do We Navigate A 'Post-Truth' World?”

“O God of my father Abraham, I am unworthy of all the kindness and faithfulness you have shown your servant.” - Genesis 32.10, ©NIV

In all that has happened to us, you have remained righteous; you have acted faithfully ... - Nehemiah 9.33, ©NIV

What is gained if I am silenced, if I go down to the pit? Will the dust praise you? Will it proclaim your faithfulness? - Psalm 30.9, ©NIV

In love a throne will be established; in faithfulness a man will sit on it - one from the house of David - one who in judging seeks justice and speeds the cause of righteousness. - Isaiah 16.5, ©NIV

Big Truth is written in reality itself ... If you do not respond to the “good, the true, and the beautiful” in daily reality, I doubt if you will ever see it in the best Bible translation in the world. If it is the truth, it is true all the time and everywhere ... as Aquinas was fond of saying, “If it’s true, it is always from the one Holy Spirit.” - Richard Rohr, “The Perennial Tradition”

Time of Response

RECEIVE COMMUNION by taking the gluten free bread and the wine or juice, in the smaller cup, in remembrance of Jesus' body broken and blood poured out

LIGHT A CANDLE and pray for yourself or another

SIT OR STAND IN SILENCE and reflect on what we have heard today

SING in response to what God is doing in us and our community
